

Alston & Bird's Privacy and Security
Practice Nationally Ranked for the Fourth Straight Year by Chambers USA:
*America's Leading Lawyers for Business

In its publicly released rankings for 2011, Chambers USA has again listed Alston & Bird's Privacy and Security practice among the nation's leading practices. Chambers highlighted the firm's commitment to service quality with the client testimonial, "The firm has never disappointed me; it always goes the extra mile." Alston & Bird's privacy and security practice has been recognized every year since Chambers & Partners began ranking this practice area on a nationwide basis.

Alston & Bird's privacy and security practice acts out of the firm's Atlanta, Los Angeles and Washington, D.C. offices. Approximately 20 attorneys and policy professionals advise clients on strategic privacy and data security compliance, legislative and public policy advocacy, privacy and security litigation, and transactional initiatives. Particular areas of focus include: analysis, advocacy and strategic counseling on federal privacy, marketing and data security legislation before Congress and on proposed privacy rules and guidelines of the Federal Trade Commission; security incident and data breach management and response; international data protection compliance, with a particular emphasis on European Union matters; and emerging consumer privacy and data security issues in the U.S.
