

Toxic Tort Team

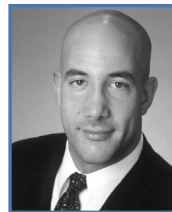

Our team includes trial lawyers with national reputations for winning cases in tough venues, premier class action specialists who understand the unique challenges posed by major environmental and toxic tort cases, nationally respected environmental attorneys who know how to counter the misuse of regulatory investigation and cleanup activities in civil litigation, and science-oriented lawyers with an unparalleled track record of effectively bringing scientific principles into the courtroom (including a proven history of successful Daubert challenges to plaintiffs' experts). From pre-litigation risk counseling to retaining top national experts to implementing community relations plans to trying tough cases in bad jurisdictions, our experience with all aspects of potential toxic tort liability makes us uniquely positioned to help defend – or prevent – chemical exposure litigation.
