

Toxic Tort Team

Our team consists of trial lawyers with track records for winning cases in tough venues; premier class action specialists who understand the unique challenges posed by major environmental and toxic tort cases; and nationally respected environmental attorneys who know how to counter the misuse of regulatory investigation and cleanup activities in civil litigation. From pre-litigation risk counseling to retaining top national experts to implementing community relations plans that head off tough cases before they start, our experience in every aspect of toxic tort litigation uniquely positions us to prevent, defend, and as needed, win these cases at trial.
