COMPLAINT & JURY DEMAND

1 Plaintiffs complain of Defendant and allege as follows:

2 NATURE OF THE ACTION

3 1. This is an action by Plaintiffs MODA LLC (“Moda”), MARC FISHER LLC, FISHER
4 INTERNATIONAL LLC (“Fisher International”), MB FISHER LLC, FISHER FOOTWEAR LLC, 5 MFKK, LLC, UNISA FISHER WHOLESALE LLC, FISHER LICENSING LLC, FISHER

10 INTERNATIONAL LLC, MF-TFC LLC, EASY SPIRIT LLC, MFF-NW LLC, and MFF NW
11 INVESTMENT LLC (together “Plaintiffs” or the “Company”) against Defendant HARTFORD
12 FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY (“The Hartford”), which has wrongfully invoked inapplicable 13 virus exclusions and policy limitations to deny tens of millions of dollars in coverage to Plaintiffs 14 for insured property and lost business income in the midst of a pandemic.

15 THE PARTIES

16 2. Plaintiffs are principally engaged in the wholesale business of designing, developing, 17 sourcing, marketing and selling women’s, men’s and children’s footwear under their owned or 18 licensed brand names, including “Calvin Klein,” “Guess,” “G by Guess,” “Tommy Hilfiger,” 19 “Tretorn,” “Easy Spirit,” “Evolve,” “Bandolino,” “Nine West,” “Indigo Rd,” “Unisa,” and 20 “Sigerson Morrison,” along with the namesake brands “Marc Fisher” and “Marc Fisher LTD.”¹ 21 Plaintiffs sell footwear to national department stores and other retail establishments located 22 throughout the United States, including in Santa Barbara, as well as direct to customers through

26 ¹ Plaintiffs Moda and Fisher International are not engaged in a wholesale business, but a first cost 27 business in which they design and source the manufacture of footwear products for their private 28 label customers. For purposes of this complaint, plaintiffs Moda and Fisher International will not be distinguished from the other plaintiffs (except where necessary) since they have suffered similar losses.

1 online e-commerce websites. Plaintiffs’ business employs hundreds of workers throughout the 2 United States, including in Santa Barbara.

3 3. With the exception of Plaintiff MBF Holdings, Plaintiffs are organized and existing 4 under the laws of the State of Delaware, with their principal place of business at 777 West Putnam
5 Avenue, Greenwich, Connecticut 06830. Plaintiff MBF Holdings is a Wyoming limited liability 6 company with its principal place of business located in Greenwich, Connecticut.

7 4. Defendant Hartford Fire Insurance Company (“Defendant”) is an insurance company 8 organized and existing under the laws of the State of Connecticut, with its principal place of business 9 at One Hartford Plaza, Hartford, Connecticut 06155.

10 JURISDICTION AND VENUE

11 5. Subject matter jurisdiction is proper in the Superior Court of the State of California 12 for the County of Santa Barbara, which is a court of general jurisdiction. .

13 6. Personal jurisdiction over Defendant is proper under California Code of Civil 14 Procedure Section 410.10, which provides that California courts are authorized to exercise 15 jurisdiction over parties “on any basis not inconsistent with the Constitution.”

16 7. Personal jurisdiction over Defendant is proper because Defendant has purposeful 17 contacts with the California forum. Defendant is registered with the Secretary of State to do 18 business, has an agent for service of process in California, and has offices in California. Defendant 19 sells its insurance products through its agents in California (including in Santa Barbara). Defendant 20 does substantial, continuous and systematic business in the State of California. Defendant regularly 21 files and responds to insurance coverage lawsuits in California. Defendant has performed acts and 22 consummated transactions in California giving rise to the claims in this Complaint, including 23 insuring Plaintiffs’ California property, business income and payroll risks. Defendant has also 24 performed activities out-of-state that were aimed at and had an effect in California, including 25 denying insurance coverage for Plaintiffs’ California property, business income and payroll risks.

26 8. Venue is proper under California Code of Civil Procedure Section 395.5 in the 27 Superior Court of the State of California for the County of Santa Barbara, which is the county “where 28 the obligation or liability arises”—namely, the obligation to pay for Santa Barbara property,

1 business income and payroll losses covered under the Policy. Moreover, to the extent that Defendant 2 has not designated the location and address of its principal office in the State, venue is proper in any 3 county in the State under Section 395.5 and Easton v. Sup. Ct., 12 Cal.App.3d 243, 246-47 (1970).

4 ALLEGATIONS COMMON TO ALL CLAIMS FOR RELIEF

5 A. Overview of the Company's Business

6 9. The Company's business enterprise was founded by Marc Fisher who began his career 7 working closely for 23 years alongside his father (who was the co-founder of Nine West). In 2005, 8 Mr. Fisher started his own company. The Company's initial business involved the Guess footwear 9 license business and subsequently expanded to Marc Fisher branded footwear exclusively sold to 10 Macy's. Since then, the Company has grown and picked up more owned and licensed brands.

11 10. The Company is principally engaged in the wholesale business of designing, 12 developing, sourcing, marketing and selling women's and men's footwear. The Company's clients 13 include, but are not limited to, nationwide retailers such as Nordstrom, Macy's and DSW. The 14 Company's footwear is sold in Santa Barbara at Macy's, 3805 State Street, Santa Barbara, California 15 93105, at Nordstrom, 17 W. Canon Perdido Street, Santa Barbara, California 93101, and at The 16 Walking Company / Footsmart, 25 W. Anapamu, Santa Barbara California 93101, among other 17 retail locations. These locations are presently closed pursuant to orders of civil authority.

18 11. The Company currently employs over 200 people across the country, in California 19 (including Santa Barbara), New York, Connecticut, New Jersey, Ohio, Georgia, Pennsylvania, 20 North Carolina, South Carolina, Florida, Minnesota and Texas. The Company also sources a 21 distribution center in Ontario, California that currently houses a substantial amount of its inventory.

22 12. Prior to mid-March of 2020, the Company and its affiliates ran a successful business.
23 The Company has no long-term debt and finances its operation through short-term financing known 24 as "factoring."

25 13. The Company finances its wholesale business operation through factoring 26 arrangements with two of the largest factors. Generally, under a factoring arrangement, a lender 27 agrees to be the Company's factor and purchases certain of the Company's accounts receivables and 28 collects directly from the Company's customers the amounts due on the accounts receivables less

1 certain charges, interest owed by the Company and any chargebacks (i.e., any costs that the 2 Company owed to the customer, such as advertisement fees, etc.). In exchange, the lender provides 3 advances on a percentage of the face value of the accounts receivables to the Company's wholesale 4 business so that it can support new lines of inventory for upcoming seasons. Under the agreements, 5 lenders maintain a 15% cushion by financing only 85% of the total value of the accounts receivables.
6 Lenders also grant the Company's wholesale business the ability to borrow against the value of 7 "eligible" inventory at approximately a 50% level and subject to maximum levels. The inventory's 8 value is based upon the lower of the cost of the footwear products or the lender's measure of "fair 9 market value."

10 B. The Policy

11 14. Defendant issued to Plaintiffs Special Multi-Flex Business Insurance Policy No. UUN 12 AB7878, effective from October 15, 2019 to October 15, 2020 (the "Policy"). A true and correct 13 copy of the Policy is attached hereto as "Exhibit A."

14 15. The Policy is an "all risks" property policy that provides coverage to Plaintiffs for loss 15 to insured property, unless that loss is subject to an express exclusion or limitation.

16 16. The Policy's "Property Choice – Business Income and Extra Expense Coverage Form 17 (Business Interruption)" provides business income coverage to Plaintiffs, "for the actual loss of 18 Business Income [they] sustain and the actual, necessary and reasonable Extra Expense [they] incur 19 due to the necessary interruption of [their] business operations . . . due to direct physical loss of or 20 direct physical damage to property." In turn, "Business Income" includes "net income" and 21 "continuing normal operating expenses, including Payroll Expenses."

22 17. The Policy's "Property Choice Business Income and Extra Expense Coverage Form 23 – Additional Coverages" Endorsement provides special coverage for the Plaintiffs in the event of 24 "loss of Business Income" they "incur when access to [their] Scheduled Premises is specifically 25 prohibited by order of civil authority." This civil authority coverage does not require a direct 26 physical loss of property, other than a loss of access to Plaintiffs' insured locations.

27 18. This "Property Choice Business Income and Extra Expense Coverage Form – 28 Additional Coverages" Endorsement also provides special Dependent Properties coverage for "the

1 suspension of [Plaintiffs'] operations" caused by events at "premises owned and operated by others 2 that they depend on to: (1) deliver materials or services [or] (2) accept [their] products or services."

3 19. The standard 30 days of business income coverage described above is expanded by 4 the "Extended Income" coverage, which provides up to 180 days of additional business income, and 5 by the "Future Earnings" coverage, which provides up to 2 years of additional income, from the date 6 the loss occurred.

7 20. The Policy expressly provides that "two or more coverages in this policy [may] apply 8 to the same loss." The Policy further provides that "if we adopt any revision that would broaden 9 this Coverage Part, without additional premium, within 45 days prior to inception of this policy or 10 during this policy period, the broadened coverage will immediately apply to you."

11 21. The Policy provides up to $20,595,300 in business personal property coverage per 12 occurrence, and up to $20,000,000 in special business income coverage per occurrence.

13 22. The Policy contains an inapplicable "New York – Exclusion of Loss Due to Virus or 14 Bacteria" Endorsement "for loss or damages caused by or resulting from any virus, bacterium or 15 other microorganism that induces or is capable of inducing physical distress, illness or disease." 16 Therefore, as a preliminary matter, by its express terms the exclusion does not apply to coverage for 17 exposures outside New York.

18 23. Neither does the "New York – Exclusion of Loss Due to Virus or Bacteria" 19 Endorsement apply to exposures inside New York. That is because the "New York – Exclusion of 20 Loss Due to Virus or Bacteria" Endorsement conflicts with the "Property Choice Business Income 21 and Extra Expense Coverage Form – Additional Coverages" Endorsement, which provides express 22 coverage for "business income and/or extra expense" where business "interruption is necessary due 23 to loss or damage to property caused by 'fungus,' wet rot, dry rot, bacteria or virus."

24 24. Additionally, the "New York – Exclusion of Loss Due to Virus or Bacteria" does not 25 apply to losses caused by a concurrent cause of loss.

1 C. The Company Has Sustained Significant Losses, Including Property, Business
2 Income and Payroll Losses Covered Under The Policy

3 25. Beginning in late-February 2020, state and local governments issued orders of civil 4 authority temporarily closing all “non-essential” businesses. In direct response to these orders of 5 civil authority, among others, the Company’s major retail customers not only shuttered their 6 storefronts, but also cancelled their retail orders, placed months prior, from Plaintiffs’ spring lines.
7 As a result, Plaintiffs’ warehouses are now overflowing with spring inventory, which due to the 8 seasonal nature of the retail business, is effectively unsellable.

9 26. Because of the orders of civil authority shutting down their retail locations, the 10 Company’s retail customers have either cancelled, halted payment and/or unilaterally extended the 11 agreed upon payment dates for an additional 90 to 180 days on the outstanding $120 million of retail 12 customer orders. However, with respect to the customers who have unilaterally extended the 13 payment dates, there is no assurance that they will ever resume making payments to the Company.
14 In addition, for goods that Plaintiffs have produced and are ready to ship – there is inventory in the 15 warehouses² and en route, totaling approximately an additional $90 million of inventory. Therefore, 16 Plaintiffs will sustain significant damages as a result of their customers cancelling and/or delaying 17 payment on $120 million of outstanding orders from March through July 2020 and having 18 approximately $90 million in inventory for which, due to the orders of civil authority, they have no 19 outlet to offload.

20 27. These orders of civil authority have directly impacted the Company’s operations and 21 ability to market its inventory, as several insured locations are within the jurisdictions in which civil 22 authority orders were issued. Among these are the Company’s Greenwich, Connecticut 23 headquarters, which employs over 150 individuals, its New York showroom, at which all of its 24 major customers view the footwear styles offered before placing that season’s retail orders, as well 25 as their California and New Jersey warehouses that substantially receive, store and ship the 26 inventory. To date, civil authority orders have been issued to cease “non-essential” operations,

27 _____
28 ² Plaintiffs Moda and Fisher International do not own any inventory nor do they maintain any inventory at any warehouses.

1 including the Company's and its customers' businesses, in almost every state the Company has 2 operations. Moreover, while direction from the federal, state and local governments changes day to 3 day, as of the date of this filing, it appears unlikely that these governments will reopen "non-4 essential" businesses prior to the end of May, at the earliest.

5 28. As of April 1, 2020, Plaintiffs are obligated to pay approximately $55 million to its 6 third-party factories, which already manufactured goods based on production orders submitted to 7 the factories (that are based on customers' orders that have now mainly been cancelled by retail 8 customers shuttered by orders of civil authority). Most of these goods are in Plaintiffs' warehouses 9 with no outlet to offload. In addition, Plaintiffs are currently obligated to pay these same factories 10 approximately $52 million related to production orders for the current season's lines that are out to 11 the factories, or the related cancellation costs for work in process and component/material liability 12 related to cancelled production orders.

13 29. To generate new income to keep their business afloat and their workers employed, 14 Plaintiffs must also soon begin having these factories produce shoes for the fall season, after state 15 and local governments lift their orders of civil authority and major retailers are expected to need 16 new products after their stores start to resume business. In general, the production orders for this 17 next season of inventory would follow the $52 million of production orders above. However, in 18 order to do so, Plaintiffs must first pay the outstanding balances owed to the third-party factories.
19 Unlike many other shoe businesses, the Company produces shoes for its customer base, largely 20 utilizing smaller factories. Since the factories largely depend upon Plaintiffs' business to operate 21 (Plaintiffs, at times, may be responsible for 75% of the factories' monthly production), these 22 factories' businesses will be destroyed if Plaintiffs are unable to pay them on the outstanding 23 purchase orders and Plaintiffs will not have a factory base still operating to fulfill upcoming 24 production orders.

25 30. Factories also produce the footwear samples that Plaintiffs show to their customers in 26 their showroom. By producing these footwear samples, factories ensure that a product can be made 27 to Plaintiffs' design specifications and understand the approximate amount they will cost to 28 manufacture. However, if there is no factory base to produce these samples and the factories' sample

1 rooms are not in operation, Plaintiffs will have no samples to market to their customers, and will be 2 unable to sell future footwear products to their customers and keep the business afloat.

3 31. Normally, Plaintiffs would be able to turn to financing to meet this need. As noted 4 above, Plaintiffs' financing for their wholesale business is premised on their accounts receivables 5 being deemed "good" by their lenders. With significant delays or stoppage in retail customers' 6 payments, the "good" accounts receivable amount is decreasing daily such that there is little to no 7 borrowing availability left under these usually robust lending arrangements. In addition, with most 8 customer orders cancelled and their warehouses and stores closed, Plaintiffs' inventory (which is 9 seasonal in nature) is effectively unsellable (and becoming therefore ineligible as collateral) and 10 therefore Plaintiffs have little to no availability for borrowing against their owned inventory value.

11 32. Plaintiffs purchased all-risk property and business income coverage from Defendant 12 to protect against these and other business interruption losses. Here, the covered losses include, but 13 are not limited to, (a) multiple occurrences of direct physical loss of insured property; (b) multiple 14 occurrences of lost business income, extra expense, extended income and future earnings due to the 15 restriction of access to premises by order of civil authority; (c) multiple occurrences of lost business 16 income, extra expense, extended income and future earnings due to the necessary suspension of 17 Plaintiffs operations with Dependent Properties, including several major retailers on which Plaintiffs 18 rely to accept their products; and (d) payroll expenses.

19 33. Plaintiffs gave Defendant notice of these losses under the Policy on April 1, 2020.
20 A true and correct copy of Plaintiffs' notice and proof of receipt is attached hereto as "Exhibit B." 21 In particular, the Company advised Defendant of the rapid damage it had incurred, including to its 22 California inventory, and requested confirmation that Defendant would honor its contractual 23 obligations and provide the Company with insurance by a date certain—April 6, 2020. To date, 24 Defendant has not acknowledged coverage. In fact, Defendant has continued to ignore Plaintiffs' 25 subsequent pleas for coverage, including an April 8, 2020, request by Plaintiffs' counsel that 26 Defendant's counsel acknowledge coverage.

27 34. Based on Defendant's conduct to date, it is apparent that Defendant has accepted 28 Plaintiffs' policy premiums with no intention of providing any coverage under the Policy.

1 35. On April 13, 2020, Defendant reached out to the Company concerning its notice of 2 losses, but would not confirm whether Defendant was acknowledging coverage under the Policy.
3 Without assurance of coverage under the Policy, and in light of Defendant’s express position on its 4 website that, among other things, coverage will not be available due to policy limitations and 5 exclusions for viruses and “direct physical loss,” then Defendant has effectively denied coverage 6 for Plaintiffs’ property and business income claims. Upon information and belief, Defendant has 7 similarly preemptively and summarily denied coverage for the claims of other hard-hit businesses 8 nationwide, using the ongoing pandemic as an excuse to avoid making payments under its policy 9 contracts. Indeed, on its website, Defendant falsely asserts that the “civil authority and dependent 10 property coverage” it sold Plaintiffs and others was “designed to cover losses that result from direct 11 physical loss or damage to property caused by hurricanes, fires, wind damage or theft and is not 12 designed to apply in the case of a virus.” Defendant further asserts that while “we’re closely 13 monitoring COVID-19, and we know it’s affecting businesses across the country, . . . coverage may 14 be unavailable or limited because viruses generally do not cause physical loss or damage to property 15 as required by the policy.” Defendant has further relied on plainly inapplicable exclusions for 16 pollution, loss of market, and governmental action. Defendant’s no-coverage position is incorrect.

17 36. Defendant’s denial of coverage is wrongful. By its express terms, Defendant’s civil 18 authority and dependent property coverage does not require direct physical loss. Moreover, any 19 alleged direct physical loss requirement in the other coverages is satisfied by the loss of access to 20 and loss of use of property. By its express terms, the “New York – Exclusion of Loss Due to Virus 21 or Bacteria” does not apply to Plaintiffs loss for several reasons, including that the loss occurred 22 outside New York. Neither can Defendant meet its burden to show that exclusions for pollution, 23 loss of market, and governmental action apply.

24 37. Defendant is obligated to pay Plaintiffs’ losses under the terms of its Policy. Indeed, 25 the Company will suffer immediate and irreparable destruction of if its business and will have no
26 choice but to liquidate if Defendant is not enjoined from refusing to honor its contractual obligations 27 to provide coverage under the Policy. As discussed above, the Company – which lacks access to 28 vital financing and has an obligation to immediately pay a majority of the $55 million owed now –

1 will be unable to access manufacturers' facilities and pay its expenses. The Company's inability to 2 pay its vendors and factories will have a devastating impact on its ability to continue functioning.

3 38. The Company has substantial outstanding debts which exceed its current liquidity of 4 approximately $20 million. With such limited cash on hand, the Company will be unable to cover 5 its operational expenses, which include, among other things, employee payroll, rents, marketing, 6 royalties, customs, taxes and insurance coverage for its inventory. Also, given that substantially all 7 of the Company's assets serve as collateral under the existing factoring arrangements, the Company 8 lacks any assets to provide as collateral to obtain a meaningful source of financing from another 9 lender. While the Company has applied for a small business loan under the new Paycheck Protection 10 Program for approximately $5.7 million pursuant to the Coronavirus Aid, Relief, and Economic 11 Security Act, Pub. L. No. 116-136, 134 Stat 281 (2020), those funds alone will be insufficient.
12 Without expeditious policy payments from Defendant, Plaintiffs will be unable to continue to fund 13 the business through the summer, when best estimates anticipate the orders of civil authority will be 14 lifted and Plaintiffs' major retail customers will place orders for the fall season. As a result, the 15 Company will be forced to lay off scores of employees and liquidate. Indeed, Plaintiffs have already 16 been forced to furlough some of their employees due to their precarious financial condition.

17 FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION

18 (Breach of Contract)

19 39. Plaintiffs reallege and incorporate by reference herein each allegation contained in 20 Paragraphs 1 through 38 above.

21 40. Defendant had duties under the Policy, the law, and insurance industry and custom 22 and practice to, among other things, pay Plaintiffs' property, business income and payroll losses, as 23 more fully discussed above. Defendants were likewise obligated to conduct a thorough investigation 24 of all bases that might support Plaintiffs' claim for coverage.

25 41. Defendant breached its duties under the Policy by, among other things, denying 26 coverage for Plaintiffs' property, business income and payroll losses; asserting grounds to avoid or 27 limit coverage that it knew were not supported by, and are contrary to, the terms of the Policy, the 28 law, industry custom and practice, the parties' course of dealings, and the facts; failing to conduct

1 an adequate investigation and asserting grounds to avoid coverage based on that inadequate 2 investigation; failing to fully inquire into possible bases that might support coverage; and by giving 3 greater consideration to its own interests than it gave to Plaintiffs' interests.

4 42. In the alternative, Defendant committed anticipated breach by clearly and positively 5 indicating, by words and conduct, that it would not fulfill its duties under the Policy.

6 43. As a direct and proximate result of Defendant's breach of contract, or in the 7 alternative, anticipatory breach of contract, Plaintiffs have suffered, and continue to suffer, damages 8 in an amount in excess of the Court's jurisdictional limits. When the precise amount of Plaintiffs' 9 damages are known, it will assert those damages accordingly.

10 SECOND CAUSE OF ACTION

11 (Breach of the Implied Covenant of Good Faith and Fair Dealing)

12 44. Plaintiffs reallege and incorporate by reference herein each allegation contained in 13 Paragraphs 1 through 43 above.

14 45. In breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing, Defendant did the 15 things and committed the acts alleged above for the purpose of consciously withholding from 16 Plaintiffs the rights and benefits to which they are entitled under the Policy, and without considering 17 Plaintiffs' interests at least to the same extent as Defendant considered its own interests.

18 46. As a direct and proximate result of Defendant's acts, Plaintiffs have been damaged in 19 an amount in excess of the Court's jurisdictional limits. The actual amount of damages has not yet 20 been precisely ascertained. When the precise amount of Plaintiffs' damages are known, it will assert 21 those damages accordingly.

22 47. Defendant's acts are inconsistent with Plaintiffs' reasonable expectations, and are 23 contrary to established claims practices and legal requirements, and constitute bad faith. Plaintiffs 24 are entitled to recover all attorneys' fees that they have reasonably incurred, and are incurring, in 25 their efforts to obtain the benefits of the coverage that Defendant has wrongfully withheld, and is 26 withholding, in bad faith, plus interest. The total amount of these attorneys' fees is currently 27 unknown. When the precise amount of Plaintiffs' damages are known, they will assert those 28 damages accordingly.

1 48. Defendant's conduct is despicable and has been done with a conscious disregard of 2 Plaintiffs' rights, constituting oppression, fraud, and/or malice. Defendant engaged in a series of 3 acts designed to deny wrongfully the benefits due under the Policy. Specifically, Defendant, by 4 acting as alleged above, in light of the information, facts, and law to the contrary, consciously 5 disregarded Plaintiffs' rights and forced it to incur substantial financial loss, without sufficient 6 assistance from it, thereby inflicting substantial financial damage on Plaintiffs. Therefore, Plaintiffs 7 are entitled to recover punitive damages from Defendant in an amount sufficient to punish and to 8 make an example of it and in order to deter similar conduct.

9 THIRD CAUSE OF ACTION

10 (Declaratory Relief)

11 49. Plaintiffs reallege and incorporate by reference herein each allegation contained in 12 Paragraphs 1 through 48 above.

13 50. As set forth above, an actual and justiciable controversy exists between Plaintiff, on 14 the one hand, and Defendant, on the other hand.

15 51. Plaintiffs allege, and are informed and believe, that Defendant disputes that it has a 16 duty to pay Plaintiffs' property and business income losses under the Policy.

17 52. Plaintiffs seek a judicial declaration as to their rights and Defendant's obligations 18 under the Policy, confirming, among other things: (a) Defendant cannot meet its burden to show the 19 "direct physical loss" requirement bars coverage; (b) Defendant cannot meet its burden to show the 20 purported virus exclusion bars coverage; and (c) Defendant cannot meet its burden to show 21 purported exclusions for pollution, loss of market, and governmental action bar coverage.

22 FOURTH CAUSE OF ACTION

23 (Violation of Unfair Competition Laws)

24 53. Plaintiffs reallege and incorporate by reference herein each allegation contained in 25 Paragraphs 1 through 52 above.

26 54. The bad faith acts and conduct of Defendant as alleged above in this Complaint 27 constitute unlawful, unfair, and/or fraudulent business acts or practices as defined by California 28 Business and Professions Code Section 17200, et seq. and/or Connecticut General Statutes §42-

1 110a, et seq. These acts include, but are not limited to, Defendant's improper claims handling and 2 refusal to promptly acknowledge coverage, to gain and maintain an unfair advantage over insureds
3 and the industry, and to enable Defendant to collect exorbitant premium payments, all of which acts 4 constitute dishonest, deceptive, oppressive, fraudulent, unfair and destructive conduct.

5 55. The following actions by Defendant also constitute an unfair and/or deceptive trade 6 act or practice, which amounts to an offense against and/or violation of public policy as set forth in 7 the Connecticut Unfair Insurance Practices Act, Conn. Gen. Stat. §38a-815 et seq.:

- 8
- 9 a. Misrepresenting pertinent facts or insurance policy provisions relating to coverages at issue;
 - 10 b. failing to acknowledge and act with reasonable promptness upon communications 11 with respect to claims arising under insurance policies;
 - 12 c. failing to adopt and implement reasonable standards for the prompt investigation of claims arising under insurance policies;
 - 13 d. refusing to pay claims without conducting a reasonable investigation based upon all 14 available information;
 - 15 e. failing to affirm or deny coverage of claims within a reasonable time after proof of 16 loss statements have been completed;
 - 17 f. not attempting in good faith to effectuate prompt, fair and equitable settlements of claims in which liability has become reasonably clear;
 - 18 g. compelling insureds to institute litigation to recover amounts due under an insurance 19 policy by offering substantially less than the amounts ultimately recovered in actions

 - 24 n. failing to promptly provide a reasonable explanation of the basis in the insurance policy in relation to the facts or applicable law for denial of a claim or for the offer 25 of a compromise settlement;

26 56. Defendant, by its actions, has violated each of these provisions. Defendant failed to 27 properly investigate the facts surrounding the Plaintiffs' loss, failed to conduct a timely or thorough 28

1 investigation of the facts, and preemptively and summarily denied coverage on unworkable 2 grounds. Defendant has engaged in both procedural bad faith and wrongful denial of coverage.

3 57. Defendant's acts of unlawful, unfair, and fraudulent competition have caused harm to 7 their efforts to prevent and deter Defendant from engaging in unlawful conduct) in an amount to be 8 proven at trial. Defendant's acts of unlawful, unfair and fraudulent competition have also caused 9 irreparable injury to Plaintiffs and, unless enjoined, could cause further irreparable injury, whereby 10 Plaintiffs have no adequate remedy at law.
