Alan Pryor is a senior associate with Alston & Bird’s Litigation & Trial Practice Group. Alan focuses his practice on complex commercial and class action litigation. His experience includes representing and advising clients across a range of industries, including food and beverage, energy, public utilities, banking, health care, technology, and manufacturing. Alan was recognized in the inaugural “Ones to Watch” list by The Best Lawyers in America® for commercial litigation.

Before joining Alston & Bird, Alan clerked for the Honorable Dudley H. Bowen, Jr. of the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of Georgia, where he assisted in resolving criminal and civil motions in a variety of areas of law. While attending law school, he served as senior managing editor for the Georgia Law Review, research assistant for Rebecca H. White, Dean and J. Alton Hosch Professor of Law, and extern for the Honorable David R. Sweat of the Western Judicial Circuit of Georgia. Alan received his J.D., cum laude, B.B.A. in both finance and economics, magna cum laude, and B.A. in Spanish, magna cum laude, from the University of Georgia.
