Charlie Morgan represents companies in employment, occupational safety and health, and traditional labor matters. He defends manufacturers, restaurants, retailers, and mining companies in jury trials and administrative proceedings across the U.S. in all disputes and investigations regarding their workers. Charlie focuses on understanding his client's business, delivering a rapid response to any problem, and keeping clients informed to limit risks going forward.

Representative Experience

- Obtained a defense verdict in Title VII sexual harassment and retaliatory discharge case tried before a jury in the U.S. District Court for the Middle District of Georgia in the first post-COVID-19 civil jury trial in all Georgia federal courts.
- Obtained a victory in a union election against the IATSE Stage Workers union and victory in subsequent ballot challenges.
- Defended nationwide occupational safety and health investigations and citations by Federal OSHA and State OSHA plans.
- Obtained victory for the client in a Title III American with Disabilities Act claim before Federal district court and Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals in the definition of "public accommodation" under the ADA.
