Financial services providers, real estate investors and entrepreneurs look to Jared for insight and counsel. On behalf of both plaintiffs and defendants, he has led matters involving complicated indentures, fiduciary duties and commercial contracts.

Financial services providers, manufacturers, real estate investors, and entrepreneurs look to Jared Slade for insight and pragmatic, straightforward counsel to pursue their desired outcomes. He has represented clients in consumer actions, disputes with vendors, and in litigation arising out of M&A transactions, data privacy and breach incidents, and other commercial disputes. Jared has defended False Claims Act matters and has played a lead role defending clients in a series of mass arbitrations representing significant exposure to the company's bottom line. Jared has tried and led a variety of commercial litigation matters including trade secret litigation and breach of contract and has obtained winning verdicts as first chair in court and in arbitration.

Jared serves as Alston & Bird's Dallas partner-in-charge, leads its local litigation team, and chairs its local pro bono committee. His pro bono work earned him the Award of Merit from the local Federal Bar Association chapter for his handling of pro bono appointments in the U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Texas and 2021 Pro Bono Coordinator of the Year from the Dallas Volunteer Attorney Program.
