A member of Alston & Bird's Litigation Group, Kathy J. Huang has a proven track record of providing valuable and strategic solutions for clients facing major exposure and bet-the-company litigation. She focuses her practice on class action defense, including defense of claims of unfair competition, unfair business practices, and false advertising. Kathy routinely counsels clients on matters that can have a significant impact on a company's operations and reputation and has defended class actions and other complex litigation in federal and state courts across the U.S. Her clients include Fortune 500 companies in life insurance and financial services, nutrition and product supplement companies, major sports apparel retailers and manufacturers, and health care plans. In addition, Kathy has a background in intellectual property issues and insurance recovery matters.

Kathy was recognized in 2020 as one of the "Top Minority Attorneys in Los Angeles" by the Los Angeles Business Journal. She has been named a "Rising Star" by Southern California Super Lawyers for the Class Actions/Mass Torts practice area. She was also named a 2016 Next Generation Leader with The Committee of 100, a national nonpartisan leadership organization of prominent Chinese Americans in business, government, academia, and the arts. Kathy is the chair of the Los Angeles Office Pro Bono Committee and currently serves on the board of Public Counsel, the nation's largest pro bono law firm.
