Maegan Fuller is an associate in Alston & Bird's Financial Services & Products Group. Maegan handles corporate deals centered on traditional intellectual property assets as well as non-traditional intellectual property, such as data transfer. She focuses her practice on a wide array of issues related to financial technology, including technology innovations such as blockchain, crypto assets, and artificial intelligence. She also advises clients on the implementation of digital transformation projects and on the monetization of data and intellectual property.

Maegan has experience in complex patent litigation in U.S. District Court, the Federal Circuit, the U.S. International Trade Commission, and the U.S. Patent & Trademark Office's Patent Trial and Appeal Board. Maegan has represented clients in technology cases regarding pharmaceuticals, medical devices, aerospace, computer science, and materials science.

Maegan previously worked as a technology consultant for Deloitte LLP, providing software solutions for the Department of Defense and the state of Maine's health management systems.
