Monica Laredo Ruiz is an associate with Alston & Bird’s Intellectual Property Litigation Group. She received her J.D., summa cum laude, from Georgia State University and a B.B.A., magna cum laude, from the University of Georgia. During law school, Monica served on the law review board and participated in moot court, receiving two Best Oralist awards and placing second in the national Thomas Tang Competition in 2018. Monica has researched both case and statutory law to provide case analyses and bench briefs, observed and participated in mediations, and served as an extern for a judge in the Northern District of Georgia.

Additionally, Monica is dedicated to volunteering, specifically with the Haiti Humanitarian Fund, where she helps to organize and manage the annual fundraiser for a week-long medical mission trip.
