

Samantha Burdick

Associate

+1 213 576 1190

sam.burdick@alston.com

Los Angeles | 333 South Hope Street, 16th Floor | Los Angeles, CA 90071-3004

Sam Burdick is an associate with Alston & Bird's Litigation & Trial Practice Group. She focuses her practice on commercial litigation issues in a variety of industries.

Before joining the firm Sam worked with an international practice where she was an attentive pro bono advocate and represented clients in state and federal courts.

While earning her J.D., with honors, from the Pepperdine Caruso School of Law, Sam served as the associate editor of the Pepperdine Law Review. She received a B.S., cum laude, in psychology with a minor in sociology from Santa Clara University.

Publications & Presentations

Publications

- "Legal or Not, It's Working: Mandatory Board Diversity for Publicly-held Companies Headquartered in the Golden State," Westlaw Today, April 7, 2021.
- "California Court Upholds Exclusive Federal Forum Provision in Post-Cyan Securities Class Action," Thomson Reuters, September 18, 2020.
- "Director Fiduciary Duties: Navigating Insolvency Risk in Newly (COVID-19) Distressed Companies," Harvard Law School Forum in Corporate Governance and Financial Regulation Blog, July 19, 2020.
- "New Risk of Whistleblower Retaliation Claims in Health Care," Law360, May 26, 2020.

Education

- Pepperdine University (J.D., 2019)
- Santa Clara University (B.S., 2015)

Admitted to Practice

- California

Related Services

Litigation